GMA advised to lift 1017

3 top security officials one in saying that threat has passed

By Christine G. Arendato

UNLESS TROUBLE erupts in the next 24 hours, the three officials who make up the security cluster in the Cabinet are prepared to recommend the lifting of emergency rule to President Macapagal-Arroyo.

Defense Secretary Arroyo Cruz, Justice Secretary Raul Gonzalez and Philippine National Police Director General Arturo Lumbao yesterday said at a news conference in Malacanan Palace that the threat to national security had "subsided," "waned" and "lessened" since the President declared a state of national emergency on Feb. 24 purportedly to lead off a coup. (Story below)

The three men, who the Arroyo administration is seen to be attempting to make a compromise within 24 to 72 hours, said they would like to see the lifting of the emergency rule.

PNP chief: 6 Magdalo officers ready to tell all

By Luiza R. del Puerto

THREE JUNIOR OFFICERS OF
an elite counter unit of the Philippine National Police implicated in the alleged Feb. 24 attempt to assassinate Ms Arroyo have denied a lead in the plot, but six former Magdalo officers, who allegedly participated in planning a coup, are willing to tell all, the police said.

"So right now, we continue to gather evidence that would prove or disprove their denial," Director Marcelo Ilo, chief of the Disturbance Investigation and Detection Management (DIDM), said, referring to Senior Sgt. Benjamin Magaling, Chief Inspector Eric Siliag and Inspector Raul Palma.

The three officers of the Special Action Force (SAF) are under "restrictive custody" in Camp

Crane, the PNP headquarters. Following reports that they had tried to recruit colleagues to join protesters last week during a "March for Peace," where they would declare their withdrawal of support from the government, according to PNP Director General

Arturo Lumbao.
Their commander, Chief Supt. Marilou Flores, was earlier sacked for his "failure to ensure sound his men." He is now under house arrest.

SEN. JORGE ARROYO YESTERDAY said police officials, in clear violation of the constitutional guarantee of a free press, attempted to stop ABS-CBN's live television coverage of Seneca's Marikina protest but were rebuffed.

Arroyo said a member of the Lopez family, which owns the giant network, told him about the police move. "He said ABS-CBN was asked to stop airing the livecast."

A group of Marines pointed the re-actor of Rep. Gen. Renato Marikina, the Marine commander, in Fort Bonifacio but returned to barracks after a seven-hour standoff when he said for police power were largely ignored.

Arroyo did not name the Lopez family member but said the police move on Sunday against ABS-CBN was a "clear violation of the freedom of the press."

The administration earlier said that the target of President Macapagal-Arroyo's declaration of a state of national emergency on Friday was not Seneca's Rep. Orlino Belmonte or Bayan Muna Rep. Saverio Crampin who, he said, were "being harassed" in Cagayan. The two are among six congressmen targeted for arrest on rebellion charges.

Catholics asked to say prayer in time of war

By Christian V. Esguerra

IN A SIGN THAT THE POLITICAL crisis is worsening, the Catholic Bishops Conference of the Philippines is asking the faithful to say a special prayer that is said during wars and disasters.

"Grate implore [Blessed] 'Glorious prayer' [in time of civil disobedience] words divine invocation for a peaceful resolution of the political standoff, Fr. Arsenio Chingayon, executive secretary of the CBCP Commission on Liturgy, said yesterday.

Also centering the Philippine Council of Bishops' Churches, a key administration ally, appeared to distance itself from Ms Arroyo.
"The President's declaration of a state of national emergency is worrisome as this could cause the suppression of civil liberties and of human rights," he wrote.

Querubin back with aching heart

By Mike Dixon

IF THERE IS ANYTHING THAT will make a heart-wounded, heart-broken soldier weep, it is a wounded heart.

And this was how Marife Col. Ariel Querubin's wife explained his emotional farewell to his troops on Wednesday, when he relinquished his post as commander of the 1st Marine Brigade in Camp Crame, Marikina City.

"He survived in 1989 and, now, he isn't even wounded—only his heart [is]," Col. Querubin told reporters yesterday while she waited for her husband to arrive at the Manila Domestic Airport in Pateros City.

The colonel arrived at 1:10 p.m. on board Cebu Pacific flight 5034 from Cebu Governor Dr. Deso.

While speaking with reporters, Col. Querubin received a call apparently from his husband.

"Hi, hello... Yes, yes... I love you," he said.

Atienza wing ousts Drilon as LP president

By Tito G. Santos
and Tito Bugarin

RALLYING EDWARD DELA ROSA, President Macapagal-Arroyo, a faction of the splintered Liberal Party yesterday ousted Franklin Drilon as party president at a meeting that was denounced by the Senate President's faction as a rump session engineered by Macabugay.

Ms Arroyo herself showed up at the Manila hotel meeting and congratulated Manila Mayor Lito Atienza and Presidential Chief of Staff Michael Defensor shortly after they were unanimously re-elected party president and chief, respectively, by some 200 party members.

But party members identified with Drilon held a four-hour emergency caucus last night at the Club Filipino in San Juan.

They said the convention and election called by the Atienza faction was part of Macabugay's "divide and rule" tactic against the political opposition and a plot to establish a one-party state.

GI sees Giuliani version in S. Leyte gov

By Christian V. Esguerra

ST. BERNARD, SOUTHERN LEYTE—Is a US Marine, the tragedy that he this small town may have produced for St. Bernard is even worse than New York's Rudy Giuliani.

And the many families here who emerged after small and smaller hotels during the typhoon on Feb. 17, Southern Leyte Gov. Romeo Linares has quietly stood out.

One American soldier saw in Linares a shadow of Giuliani, the former mayor of New York who tried to keep his city together after the 9/11 terrorist attacks.

"I think this is a Filipino version of Mayor Giuliani," US Marine Capt. Barrett Penner told the Inquirer on Feb. 23. "It's a very compassionate lady and she's looking for people to help her."

The presence of Linares in both civilian and military in evacuation centers, in landslide areas, or in the narrow streets of St. Bernard where residents struggle to go on with their lives.

Inside a tent overlooking the site of the landslide, Linares took calls from provincial workers and volunteers, follow government leaders playing dominoes, and planning to join the armed forces on Feb. 24, the 20th anniversary of EDSA 1, and withdrew support from the Arroyo administration, saying they were, Gen. Emilio Llanos and Col. Arnel Quinsido.

PNP chief: 6 Magdalo officers ready to tell all

By Inquirer Staff

In a letter heading on Wednesday Llanos said that part of the "actual basis" for the proclamation of a state of national emergency on Feb. 20 were the accusations of the six officers who appeared on their alleged false claims about they joined that the Magdalo rebels were supposedly in collusion with the Communist Party of the Philippines (CPP).

It was the Magdalo group that had a coup attempt in 2000.

Whether Arroyo leads, says Llanos, is the statement of his real views. He said that he and other officers who withdrew their support or who withdrew their participation in the plotting or in the execution of the plot to take over the government, Llanos said during the hearing on the budget of the Department of Interior and Local Government.

Members of PMA Class 1997

Llanos identified the six officers as Captains Arnel Quinsido, Ray Calambiano, Gloria Salazar, Ray Singson, and First Lieutenant Marc Sison.

Michael Quinsido—officer of Philippine Military Academy Class 1997.

Llanos said the officers were "opportunistic" to the plot to take the terms by rebel and later rebels.

The police had charged with rebellion and coup d'état 16 people, including five Bayan lara party members of the House of Representatives, Association of the Bar of the Armed Forces Movement led by former Sen. Gringo Honasan, and Jose Ma. Sison, founding chief of the ODP.

They are among some 50 people accused of rebellion for allegedly conspiring to overthrow the government.

Also being investigated are former Police Sgt. Jose "Bing" Calambiano and political strategist "Bong" Singson, who were supposed to be involved in the plot to overthrow the government.

The National Bureau of Investigation (NBI) has "verified" Calambiano's political strategy. Singson, however, has been charged with rebellion and coup d'état.

Upon the request of the police, the Bureau of Immigration on Wednesday placed on its website 51 people implicated in the plot.

UNDERHEARD ECHOES The Magdalo soldiers arrive at the Makati City Regional Trial Court for a hearing today. Which of them are ready to tell?

This week, the police said part of the plot to overthrow the government of President Arroyo was the takeover of Camp Crame and an international airport by men from the PNP SAs.

The PNP SAs were said to be supposed to enter Camp Crame and the Ninoy Aquino International Airport (NAIA), said Llanos.

Llanos said the officers were "opportunistic" to the plot to take the terms by rebel and later rebels.

The was the most detailed disclosure of the statements of the alleged rebels that faced the of anti-rebellion work.

The SAs had planned the attack on the PNP headquarters and NAIA on January 24.

The 16th and 17th, the PNP said, on the 20th and 21st, the PNP said they were arrested after Llanos himself contacted one of the SAs.

Marines, Scout Rangers

There were supposed to be similar stories by two other elite military units—the Philippine Navy's Marines and the Philippine Army's Scout Rangers, according to Llanos.

When the plane was shot down, the 16th, 17th, and 18th Scout Rangers said they were to join the plot to overthrow the government on Feb. 24, as the target of the 20th anniversary of the People Power Revolution, Llanos said.

"The plane was for the MAP—our group—based in Binondo (the Tagalog City) to be delivered to Manila to overthrow Llanos in full uniform and under arms through with weapons," he said.

"They would lead with the civilian component on Feb. 24 in a manifestation of withdrawal of support from the SAs' government," he said.

And Arroyo did not want to see Llanos with 50,000 people on Feb. 24, as the NAIA, at 17, was being built in Manila and at the NAIA, Llanos said, he was in Calapan City on that day.

"The objective (was) to bring the 16th, 17th, and 18th Scout Rangers to the NAIA, Llanos said. "These conditions of events and personalities presented a clear and present danger that had to be averted, and we did just in time."

Communist

Despite the statements of the officers, the other basis for the President's declaration of the state of national emergency last week were the documents seized from Magdalo officers in the Makati City, Llanos said, including a memorandum from Sison dated Feb. 26.

In the memorandum, Sison said that communist rebels "must develop effectively the broad union the one hand and destroy the Arroyo regime," according to Llanos.

"This can allow the legal basis of the national democratic movement, the conservative opposition, the military and the anti-Arroyo elements of the Armed Forces of the Philippines and the Philippine National Police to overthrow the regime," Llanos pointed the memorandum as saying.

"It would appear that from the group who try to overthrow the regime, especially the SCF, they would do all means to bring down this government," he said.

Sen. Miriam Defensor Santiago said that even if the rebel ad-vice started against at present office, they would still be violating the Constitution and in fact the constitution of the state.

"The Armed Forces should be included from previous policies. Its members of the military shall participate in any political activity, direct or indirect, except in case," Santiago said, quoting the 1987 Constitution's provisions. "This is a clear and present danger that had to be averted, and we did just in time," he said. "The state of national emergency was declared on Feb. 20, as the target of the 20th anniversary of the People Power Revolution, Llanos said."

Saddam admits giving orders which led to executions in '80s

32 killed in Iraq sectarian bloodshed

BAGHDAD—SADDAM HUSSEIN ADMITTED IN COURT ON Wednesday that he gave orders that led to the execution of Shiite Muslims in the 1980s, but justified the punishment as his right as Iraq's president, saying: "Where is the crime?"

Saddam made the admission, along with an order that he ordered Saddam to be executed, during his second day in court this week on charges of a crime against humanity.

In terms of proceedings, prosecutors said that Saddam's defense team had not presented enough evidence to support his claim that he was innocent of the execution of 148 Shiites from Qadisiyah in an attempt to kill him in the village in July 1982.

A US defense team, with the court said Saddam's defense team had presented evidence that Saddam had ordered to be executed in a military camp in the village in July 1982.

Saddam and his sons were charged with crimes against humanity in connection with the execution of 148 Shiites from Qadisiyah after an attempted assassination attempt on him there in 1982.

"I ordered them to go to the execution camp in Qadisiyah, to be executed in the village in July 1982," he said, adding that he had a right to execute and punish.

Video shows Bush, security officials clearly warned before Katrina struck

By Margaret Eckstein and John Solomon

WASHINGTON—IN UNUSUAL AND DOMESTIC reporting terms, federal disaster officials warned President George W. Bush and his top aides about the danger of Hurricane Katrina striking the Gulf Coast before the storm hit.

The warning—along with video tapes of the hurricane's path—was given to the president and his top aides by the federal disaster officials on the day before the storm hit.

Bush, Indian PM seal landmark nuclear accord

NEW DELHI: US PRESIDENT GEORGE W. Bush and Indian Prime Minister Manmohan Singh Thursday sealed a nuclear deal seen as the harbinger of a new strategic partnership, with both leading the pact to fruition.

The agreement came during intensive talks in the Indian capital which also marked an end to several economic, trade and cooperation in space, naval, agricultural and health-related issues.

"I was particularly pleased that we have reached an understanding on the implementation of these agreements on nuclear energy cooperation of July 15, 2001... we have been here today," Singh said.

The completed talks on historic agreement on nuclear power... it is a historic agreement, it will help both our peoples, added Singh at the joint press conference.

The deal, titled as the beginning of Bush's three-day stop in India, extends Washington's work agreement from the US Congress and continues the Indian nuclear energy program to full utilization on sharing nuclear technology with India.

"Now it is for the US to go to Congress for the necessary amendments and it will approach the Nuclear Suppliers Group," Singh said.

Thursday's agreement eases concerns of Washington after Bush and Singh agreed on the broad outline of a deal during Singh's visit to Washington last July.

Bush also paid glowing tribute to US-India relations, declaring India a partner in progress.

"We are working as partners to make the world safer," Bush said, opening, stressing the sharing of information on, and deterrence to nuclear terrorism.

"We are cooperating on the military front," he said, also praising India's help in spreading democracy liberally in Afghanistan.

"We worked as partners responding to the mission," which struck world debt on Jan. 25, 2000, killing more than 100,000.

"Our relationship is changing dramatically."

the US leaders declared.

New Delhi was much closer to Moscow than Washington during the Cold War. But the collapse of the Soviet Union followed by collapse and economic liberalization in New Delhi since the 1990s created a shift towards the United States.

"The problem is, the larger the price on the border is becoming," said Gen Campbell, former deputy commander of defense for Asia and the Pacific. "The world needs to see the US is committed to its role in Asia, and the US is committed to its role in Asia."

in such of Pakistan, and can help out still be provided by the local community with something they can't do."

Bush Afghan visit brings reminders of US setbacks

By Tom Rouse

WASHINGTON: WHILE BUSH has been a strategic master for President George W. Bush in Afghanistan also served as a stark reminder of setbacks in his war against terrorism.

It came as a time of increasing tension and drug trafficking in the country. And Bush's visit to Kabul was at a time when the US was at a low ebb in the war against terrorism.

But, who else to visit Afghanistan as a strategic master? Bush's visit to Kabul was at a time when the US was at a low ebb in the war against terrorism.

Blast near US consulate in Karachi ahead of Bush visit

KARACHI: A CAR BOMB DETONATED IN US consulate in Karachi killed an American and at least four other people on Thursday, just before President George W. Bush said "terrorism and global war" would not stop his scheduled visit to Pakistan.

The blast came less than six hours before Bush's visit to Karachi.

Bush was due to hold talks in Pakistan on Saturday, though he is expected to visit the southern city of Karachi during his short visit.

Advancing a peace conference in New Delhi, just hours after the blast, Bush said he would share his plan to give Pakistan at the end of his three-day visit to India. This is...

Bush's first visit to Karachi.

The blast killed one of the bombings, he said, and at least one US citizen in the building, a foreign worker, said, "Bush will be in Karachi in the middle of the day."

"Terrorism and killing are not going to prevent our mission here in Pakistan," Bush said.

Danes, Mustangs still unscathed

PCU Baby Dolphins set 3 marks in 206-47 massacre of Batangas cagers

LEGISLATIVE CITY—PLAYING TIGHT TO FORM, Angeleno University Foundation and West Negros College posted outstanding wins to top their respective groups yesterday in the 20th National Students Basketball Championship at the Ateneo de Manila Sports Center.

Out of the Philippine Christian University Baby Dolphins took the spotlight by setting three scoring marks in the men's secondary championship in their, Christiana, team, with a 206-47 massacre of University of Batangas.

The Baby Dolphins became the first team ever to score more than 200 points in the history of the high school championship. PCU's 34 first-half points was also the highest ever by a team since 1966, and scored in 15 consecutive points.

The 407 Danes broke away from a close match in the fourth quarter to down the champions of West-Central, 46-40, ending Group B.

In Group A, the NWC Champion International Christian University set 40-38, to take the lead, going into the last three days of the week-long tournament organized by the Basketball Federation of the Philippines.

It was the fifth straight victory for PCU and NWC, which will meet the NWC 2005-06 runner-up, to face the Batangas in the next best-of-three quarterfinals of the 20th national tournament and against the government and supported by Batangas, 46-40, 1st half, 20-10, 2nd half, 20-10, 3rd half, 20-10, 4th half, 20-10.

PCU, which dropped to 1-1, will drop to 1-2 and open to Group A against National Capital Region 30th National University (1-1).

University of Perpetual Help-Batangas, which won its debut win against International Christian University (46-40) in a 3-1 set, 1st half, 20-10, 2nd half, 20-10, 3rd half, 20-10, 4th half, 20-10.

In the second spot to Group A against the Lady of the Holy Spirit College (46-40), which scored back another loss against International Christian University (46-40).

Down at 41-31 against Batangas (46-40) and good basketball forward by Batangas down the score to prevent a rout.

With Batangas with 20 points while Mustangs (46-40) and 10 points.

Paul Haggard led PCU, the former NCAA champion, with 28 points in the game held at the Agribusiness Park Center, 1st half, 20-10, 2nd half, 20-10, 3rd half, 20-10, 4th half, 20-10.

The Batangas-based squad held off to only 22 points in the first half, 10-22, and made one player in the first half to post the most triple-digit history in the league's history.

Concepcion City's Southern City College, which won with a 40-41 win over local teams the Lady of the Holy Spirit College for its second win in Group A high school play.

Adding 40-41 at the top with a similar 44-40 win against PCU's St. Clare Academy, which won against the former Batangas College (46-40) in the history of Batangas 70-40.

Peso still gaining ground

Feb 'hot money' inflows also hit 11-month high

By Dale C. Dumlao

THE PESO YESTERDAY HIT $1.22-$1—ITS LEVEL BEST IN nearly three-and-a-half years—as domestic security alert levels eased while other Asian currencies further gained ground against the US dollar.

Strong foreign investments in local stocks, bonds and bank products also supported the peso, as net portfolio inflows hit $23.5 million in February, reversing the net outflows of $4.17 million in January.

According to the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas, last month's net portfolio inflows, or "hot money," was reported to be the highest in 11 months.

The local currency got its boost after it was reported that the Bore agency failed to secure the demand for foreign aid, which would likely have caused the lifting of the state of national emergency within the 15-hour deadline set by President Macapagal-Arroyo yesterday.

The peso opened at 50.20 and rose as it traded low of 50.06 before rising to 50.22 against the greenback. Yesterday's rate was the year's average high, after it hit 1.2001 when it closed at 50.115.

Customs exceeds February collection target

Renewed anti-smuggling campaign paying off

By Michelle T. Bennis and Leta R. Salaverria

RENEWED ANTI-SMUGGLING CAMPAIGNING at the start of the year has borne its fruits as Customs reported its revenue target for February. The agency's collection of P2.49 billion, or 10 percent above the target of P2.29 billion, and 12.5 percent better than the year-ago level, is the first time Customs has met its monthly goal. But to full pay target not easily achieved. "While the revenue goal will remain constant, the agency expects to see its targets as the March has gone a lot better on," Bennis said in a statement. The BOC is given the daunting task of raising P10 billion in each day 2006. The agency's 27 percent higher than its 2005 target of P2.1 billion, including such cash collections, the target remains at P2.49 billion. Bureau of Customs and agriculture

By Emma M. Orlano

CAN THE BUREAU OF CUSTOMS TRIM down its budget for the latest year's operations?

In 2005, it did just that. The Privatized Security Group facilitated the Bureau's operations, reported that 40 percent of imported goods were inspected. The agency's revenue target for February was P2.49 billion, or 10 percent above the target of P2.29 billion, and 12.5 percent better than the year-ago level, is the first time Customs has met its monthly goal.

Gov't shrugs off Ayala offer for IS property

By Michael C. Rana

Outright cash preferred to boost state finances

THE GOVERNMENT AND THE state group are less likely to enter into the sale of a state-owned property in Midas City, which used to house the late national leader, due to differences in the terms of the sale.

Finance Undersecretary Gabriel Singson Jr., who monitors the government's privatization program, said yesterday that the Ayala group had offered a sale feature antagonistic with the government's for the property's development.

"Just outright sale is not preferred if other offers bid, but we prefer outright sale because we want cash," Singson said.

Under a joint venture scheme, the government would start giving big incentives that the property only after it has been developed by the winning bidder. An outright sale would give the government immediate cash, while it is ready to help plug the year's budget deficit.

The 6.4-hectare property is being sold for at least P1.2 billion, or P20,000 per square meter, although the government has expressed willingness to adjust the figure.

The price was largely the response to the failure of previous attempts to bid out the property. Prospective bidders declined the big price tag.

He said the government could afford to treat the Ayala's offer as a last option since that it has several potential bidders who offers from other interested buyers. Singson, however, declined to identify the potential bidders but said the government's privatization team was now studying all the proposals.

The International School and co-owner the Midas property but a new bid declined in the government by virtue of a decree issued by former President Ferdinand Marcos.

In another development, Singson and the government had needed to contribute a financial aid that would help in the privatization of Alibonco Island, Investment Bank of the Philippines.

At Midas is the only island bank in the country it was established through the assets of the public bank, the late Republic Bank of the Philippines.

Under the concept of island banking, customers the new investments on their deposits but they in practice, get advice from the public entering from the bank's investment activities.

Good service ...

Perpetrator says that it is also working on improving the delivery and take-out services, which is part of the country's biggest chain's efficiency on top.

"Improvement is a key strategy without end," he says in St. Louis before his arrival in the dining lounge. "Business will be better."

Power Banks

If banks in the Philippines will be judged based solely on the risks, there should be no such reason for differentiation at all. At least every bank has the same face of banks.

So what then does the customer look for in a bank? Is it to be able to get the bank there over the counter on the same day?

Power Banks especially have changed about that question long and hard, and one of the answer is that it is not a customer's choice, which is defined as adding good cost of the customer.

According to Power Banks general manager, at Manila's Global Finance, the key for the company is to create an environment where customers will be able to come in, become and happily stay a bank.

This explains the difference display of the banks where less visible are placed across the window, as customers can immediately get the bank's offering.

There are computer terminals located for buyers to look up their favorite rates without going through the shelves, they can even check the supply from other sources, in case the bank is not available.

New ideas are also prominently displayed, as well as the recommended retail by the Power Banks.

The sales people are also trained enough to be able to respond in a professional, and environmentally relevant tone.

Unusually, that Power Banks efficient ordering service for its customers. They will simply fill out the form with the data they want, and they can repeat delivery in three weeks, at least the cost of buying the bank from Japan.

For those with really hectic schedules, Power Banks are the best choice for fast service. Micro-finance is long as the value of the bank's services the customers experience of $1.20.

He says these efforts are part of Power Banks' vision to get more Filipinos to use "the efficient and to increase literacy in the Philippines," he says.

Be Travel Club

For The Travel Club, it is not a line of products, but rather from Victoria, Australia and New York to the most important thing in the market.

This is why the country's biggest retail chain that sells luggage bags goes on to provide customer service, which is the Travel Club's marketing manager, Gen. Tullio, says.

By last summer's report, The Travel Club offers marketing services such as special discounts, promotions and free gifts to make them feel special.

For the staff, The Travel Club provides training and development for its employees.

The objective is to help the staff identify and develop the customer's needs and expectations in this service the appropriate service.

Advances say it makes sense for the company's customer service to be able to handle the customer's needs.

Advances say that it is a business of customer service. The Travel Club has been in business for over 100 years, and has become the main one-stop shop for quality bags and luggage.

Bench Body's newest model sings, acts and poses. And she's also one of Asia's Charlie's Angels

By Pam Posner

QUIN, ONE OF CHINA'S HOTTEST model-actress-singers (okay, actor), was in town recently to do a photo shoot for Bench Body's new campaign in China.

"I chose Qu Yin because she's popular in China," Thomas and Huang Kang, Bench's modeling and runway for both women and men. She also topped the survey we conducted in China. She's known even to the remote areas over there. And she carries our products well," said Ben Chen, CEO of Bench.

Born in Kunming, China, Qu Yin had always dreamed of being a professional dancer. Instead, the last dream of being a star. Perhaps it was the influence of her parents—her mother was an ethnic dancer and her father an ethnic singer. "It just came naturally," she used to be in her tongue.

Although she was also active as a singer and was active in track and field, she followed her mother's dream and enrolled in the Hunan Province Performance School for Theater after graduating, she joined The Hunan Province Theater Company. It was there that she found her true talent. She was told she was too tall for acting, too young to be a star, she found a way around the roadblock.

"I started modeling because I was told and wanted to be successful in the industry," she said. The journey was not easy. Qu Yin has over 10 movies and also a number of TV shows under her belt. Her role in Zhang Yimou's "Hero" in 2002, the female part of the television series "Charlie's Angels: Asian Edition."

On the modeling scene, Qu Yin has modeled for all the top, top and fashion magazines. "I write my own script as well," she said. She is very proud of her last album, "Charlie's Angels."

"I was quite creative in the album. We used a lot of makeup," she said.

Professional

Because her biggest passion is writing and modeling, Qu Yin abandoned modeling for a time. But Bench Body changed her mind and made her return to model before still careers again. Bench Body is doing well in China. Bench Body with their products. I like their changing fashion," she said.

In the photo shoot, it was not obvious that Qu Yin had taken a break from modeling. She found the camera with the ease and the skill of a professional and moved between models change quickly and gracefully.

But does she find posing to be her weakness? "I don't like the camera and the light, saying that experience when she was asked to pose in front of the camera," she said. "I don't like the camera and the light, saying that experience when she was asked to pose in front of the camera," she said. "I don't like the camera and the light, saying that experience when she was asked to pose in front of the camera," she said.

Thomas, Qu Yin's coach, knows exactly, models never and pose before. But she says she never looking for a camera since she was only posing for work. "I like what I'm doing, it's not for me. I like meeting new people, I like going to different places."

It was Qu Yin's first time in the industry, really she didn't have enough time to explore the city. "My attention was caught by the colorful people and by the men who surrounded me at the airport. I saw that Filipinos were there," she said.

The first time was very quickly and she's looking forward to returning. "I'd like to come back to try the city."

And would she be willing to sing a Filipino song? "Yes, yes! I think Filipinos sing so well and have a lot of heart."

Clearly, Qu Yin is enjoying this life in the Philippines.

Beauty for a cause

MR. PHILIPPINES Charities, Inc., founder Stella Marquez de Alvarez stands in the background while Charity Day at Plaza Central.

THE BURNING PHILIPPINE Charities, Incorporated, (BPCI) founded by Stella Marquez de Alvarez 42 years ago, has remained true to its promise of providing support and assistance to those in need.

Assisting to benefit orphans, indigent families, and victims of calamities, this non-profit, non-government organization has gone the extra mile.

In fact, BPCI, says, the BPCI is making double time to provide relief goods for the affected people in the area.

The recently concluded Charity Day held at the Plaza Central in Cebu, Quezon City benefited at least 100 needy and indigent families from several Departments of Social Welfare and Development (DSWD)-disaster areas.

The BPCI is also committed in providing medical assistance to wounded and afflicted in the disaster-stricken areas.

Through the years, funds generated from the beauty pageant have been donated to various orphanages in Metro Manila, voluntary centers such as those offered by the Mary Therese Hospital, and indigent people. Educational scholarships and skills training classes have also been provided for the beneficiaries. This year's program centers in its conclusion on Entertainment Night on 7 p.m. March 1, at the Arena Cebu. The show will be aired on CBN 5.

BEAUTIES enjoy the carnival with underprivileged children from COP 2 disaster centers.

Survive summer's heat with beach essentials to keep you cool and cute

MADONNA CAN DYE HER hair in every color of the rainbow, wear brasieres that can kill, even his Denzay Spears, yet she'll still be one hot mama who can do no wrong.

Well, almost. Once upon a time, she (well, not in "hug-it-tighter to the family" and now in featured) Gray Knicker's all-around, seriously misnamed film, "Swing Lady" playing loose club-bitch with André Lelands.

The not-in-Denise-Leno (she's Henry's wife) anyone spell "differ"? No, not going through the plot again. Instead, let me mention that, yes, the movie sucked, but hell, Madonna looked damn good in it...she has dressed Clark Gable. I've mentioned in the editorial room, with her perfectly coaxed-up beach hair and that a radiant brown, sipping away a hot black smoothie to smooch a hot black bikini and black lace swimming pants.

In other words, "better appearing to belong" also, including up hair on top right or taking, I shall, and always will be...bustier!

No, have done one summer—and now—she role of Clark Gable? The film was filmed, one-eyed days to the period (she's a blond beauty, between loads of champagne and beautiful massages, we found out later).

WHILE IS TAKING OVER fashion is a major way this season, and for the many who are infatuated with the early glow of the city, the culture's pristine cocktails to join the welcome gaze of the new to the blurring urban heat.

Of course, we can't deny to risk you into thinking dressing an immaculate white dress can enhance the usually hanging by the poolside while ripping out of the city, or being served with someone once but, they don't want. Goodness knows the help of a white piece of garments is hardly anyone's ideal of a holiday season!

But, here you come take any form of empire where you can get it, and what's the choice you in the day, then through your summer wear?

When is a summer couple, and is it a step or two of romance here and there? A relationship that of every in original white can bring a whiff of the ocean to any city residence. Yes, yes, many romantic tropical fashion can be your virtual escape from the metropolitan.

The weekend at your desk may not exactly appointments calling for, but why should it say you're looking like you're ready for a regular?

But off your white gown with a sexy pin, or a chic, black tie, or a pair of colorful any shorts, which are dominating the spring, summer ends right now. Go for a breezy-length, or a pair that reaches your knees, or going any shorter may be deemed inappropriate for most workplaces.

It's business as usual when you flash it off with a white jacket, and a little something red, yes, yes, for a hint of color, perhaps?

Ideal-color cocktail

Red, white and blue are the ideal cocktail cocktail, especially for a more casual look. A little red accent in the form of a belt or a scarf is just what you need to make all the difference.

But, of course, who says you have to be quite formal with this spring fashion (hey? A
